

Society Chat OF THE Week

IT SEEMS to be a common thing among girls in the younger set to quite overlook the courtesy due those who remember them with occasional or frequent invitations to affairs. Particularly is this omission noticeable when the severe "R. S. V. P." appears in the corner. It seems almost ridiculous that guests have to be reminded that an answer, either an acceptance or regret, is expected but old-time custom began it and new customs have not found it less necessary, nor anything better, to take its place. Here in Honolulu the complaint is almost general. The young girls having their first or second season, and often it is by those who have not already made their formal bow to society, that this apparently important item is overlooked to an extent that causes remark. This seems to be a season when society is at the ebb. There are so many people "in the social swim" who are out of town, most of them at Coast resorts, that there is little in the way of receptions, teas or bridge to chronicle. Nor does it seem possible there will be any until the extreme hot weather has passed. Another month and the absent ones will have returned and the stay-at-homes will feel like brightening up and giving the whirl another push that will keep it on the go until Lent—a long way off, as a prospect, and a busy time, until it comes.

Weddings Are Numerous.

As a rule the month of August is almost devoid of weddings but this year, the rule has been broken and there have already been five during the past week. On Monday night Miss Ray Bell, of Honolulu and Ensign Paul Marshall Bates of the U. S. S. California were married at Saint Clement's. This was probably the week's most elaborate affair for it was a military wedding and all of the little ceremonies that play an important part in the affairs of the officers were performed.

Jameson-Quinan Nuptials.

One of the prettiest weddings of the week was that of Miss Margaret Quinan and Mr. William Jameson, which was solemnized on Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Macdonald, on Punahou street. The Reverend Father Stephen officiated. The large reception room where the young couple were married was adorned with white and delicately shaded pink roses, against a background of maidenhair ferns. The spacious hall decorated in ferns and white flowers.

The bride wore an exquisite gown of rose point lace over charmeuse satin and her lace veil was adorned with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. Miss Mary Quinan attended her sister as bridesmaid; and the groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Frederick Jameson and Mr. Heely.

After the ceremony the bridal couple held a reception in the dining room, which was artistically decorated for the occasion with golden shower blossoms.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Jameson have a host of friends in Honolulu. As Miss Quinan, Mrs. Jameson has been a resident of Honolulu for the past six years and the groom has for some time been connected with the firm of Brewer & Company.

Double Wedding Solemnized.

A very quiet double wedding was solemnized at the Central Union Church on Thursday, August 8th, at 1 p. m., the contracting parties being Miss Fanny Petersen, eldest daughter of Mr. W. N. Petersen of Aiea plantation, and Mr. Olaf R. Olsen, chief engineer of Kahuku plantation, and Miss Meta Petersen and Mr. Theodore Nicklesen, chief engineer of Aiea plantation.

The brides, who were given away by their father, looked charming in white, wearing white hats trimmed with white roses; carried bouquets of white roses and marched in to the strains of the Wedding March played by Miss Agnes Judd. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Ebersole, after which the wedding party motored to the Young Cafe, where dainty refreshments were served. The happy couples left by the Wilhelmina for Hawaii where they intend motoring about the island for a month or more. The wedding party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Petersen, parents of the brides; Mr. and Mrs. F. Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Christofferson; Miss Emma Seale, Miss Agnes Judd and Rev. Ebersole.

St. Clement's the Scene of a Military Wedding.

The second military wedding of the season was performed at St. Clement's on Monday night when Miss Ray Bell of Honolulu, and Ensign Paul Marshall Bates of the U. S. S. California were united in marriage by the Rev. F. G. Williams. The little church was simply and effectively decorated with white daisies and pepper branches.

The bride who was given away by her mother, Mrs. J. H. Bell, was charming in a robe of ivory satin. Like many of the recent brides on the mainland she chose a court train which was weighted with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her veil was arranged like the boudoir cap and was fastened with orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white Maman Cochet roses. The maid of honor, Miss Martha McChesney, wore an exquisite gown of shaded yellow chiffon over yellow satin and a hair ornament of white plumes. She carried a shower basket of white Maman Cochet rose buds. The bridesmaids were Miss Vivian Buckland and Miss Hazel Buckland. The former wore pink chiffon over pink satin and the latter wore blue chiffon over satin. Both of the girls wore chiffon bonnets. They carried shower bouquets of roses.

The bridegroom was supported by a brother officer, Ensign William H. O'Brien and the ushers were Ensign Skelton and Ensign Merton Anderson.

After the ceremony the wedding party and a few of the intimate friends of the bride motored to the Young Hotel where Mr. and Mrs. Bates held a reception. As is the custom at a military wedding the bride drew her husband's sword and cut the wedding cake. When the bridal bouquet was thrown it was caught by the maid of honor.

Mr. Bates sailed from Honolulu with his ship on Tuesday afternoon, but

Mrs. Bates will remain with her mother for some time, probably until after target practice.

Mrs. Bates is an island girl having lived here since her childhood and she is one of the most popular members of the younger set. As yet Mr. and Mrs. Bates have made no definite plans as to where they will make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gay's House Party.

During the past week many of the society folk who have been guests of Mrs. Francis Gay at the house-party on Kauai have been returning to Honolulu. Coleman, Captain and Mrs. Clifton Carter, Major and Mrs. Neville, Mr. Chornley, Mr. and Mrs. Klebahn, Miss Edith Cowles and Admiral and Mrs. Cowles.
